SleepTide

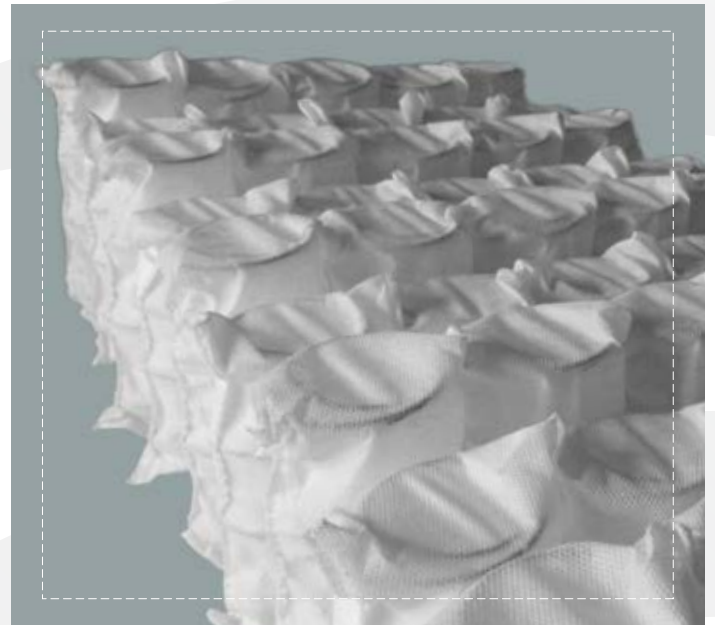

Conforms to maintain body in ideal position, preventing any physical problems during sleep.

Body conforming contour design provides superior resilience with minimum pressure.

Height difference amongst springs improves air circulation inside the mattress extending the mattress' use life.

During a good night's sleep, the spring system supports your body so that natural movement all through sleep helps relax your muscles.

- Maximum height difference between two spring rows can be 3 cm (1 ¼ inches)
- Available in different wire diameter between 1,30 mm and 2,00 mm. (14 g and 17 ½ g)
- Available in different spring diameter between 39 mm and 77 mm.
